

Early Morning Blues #2

The sun is slowly risin' over the horizon
But my heart is slowly sinkin' since you left me
With a note on the door
You don't want me no more
You walked away with nothin' left to say

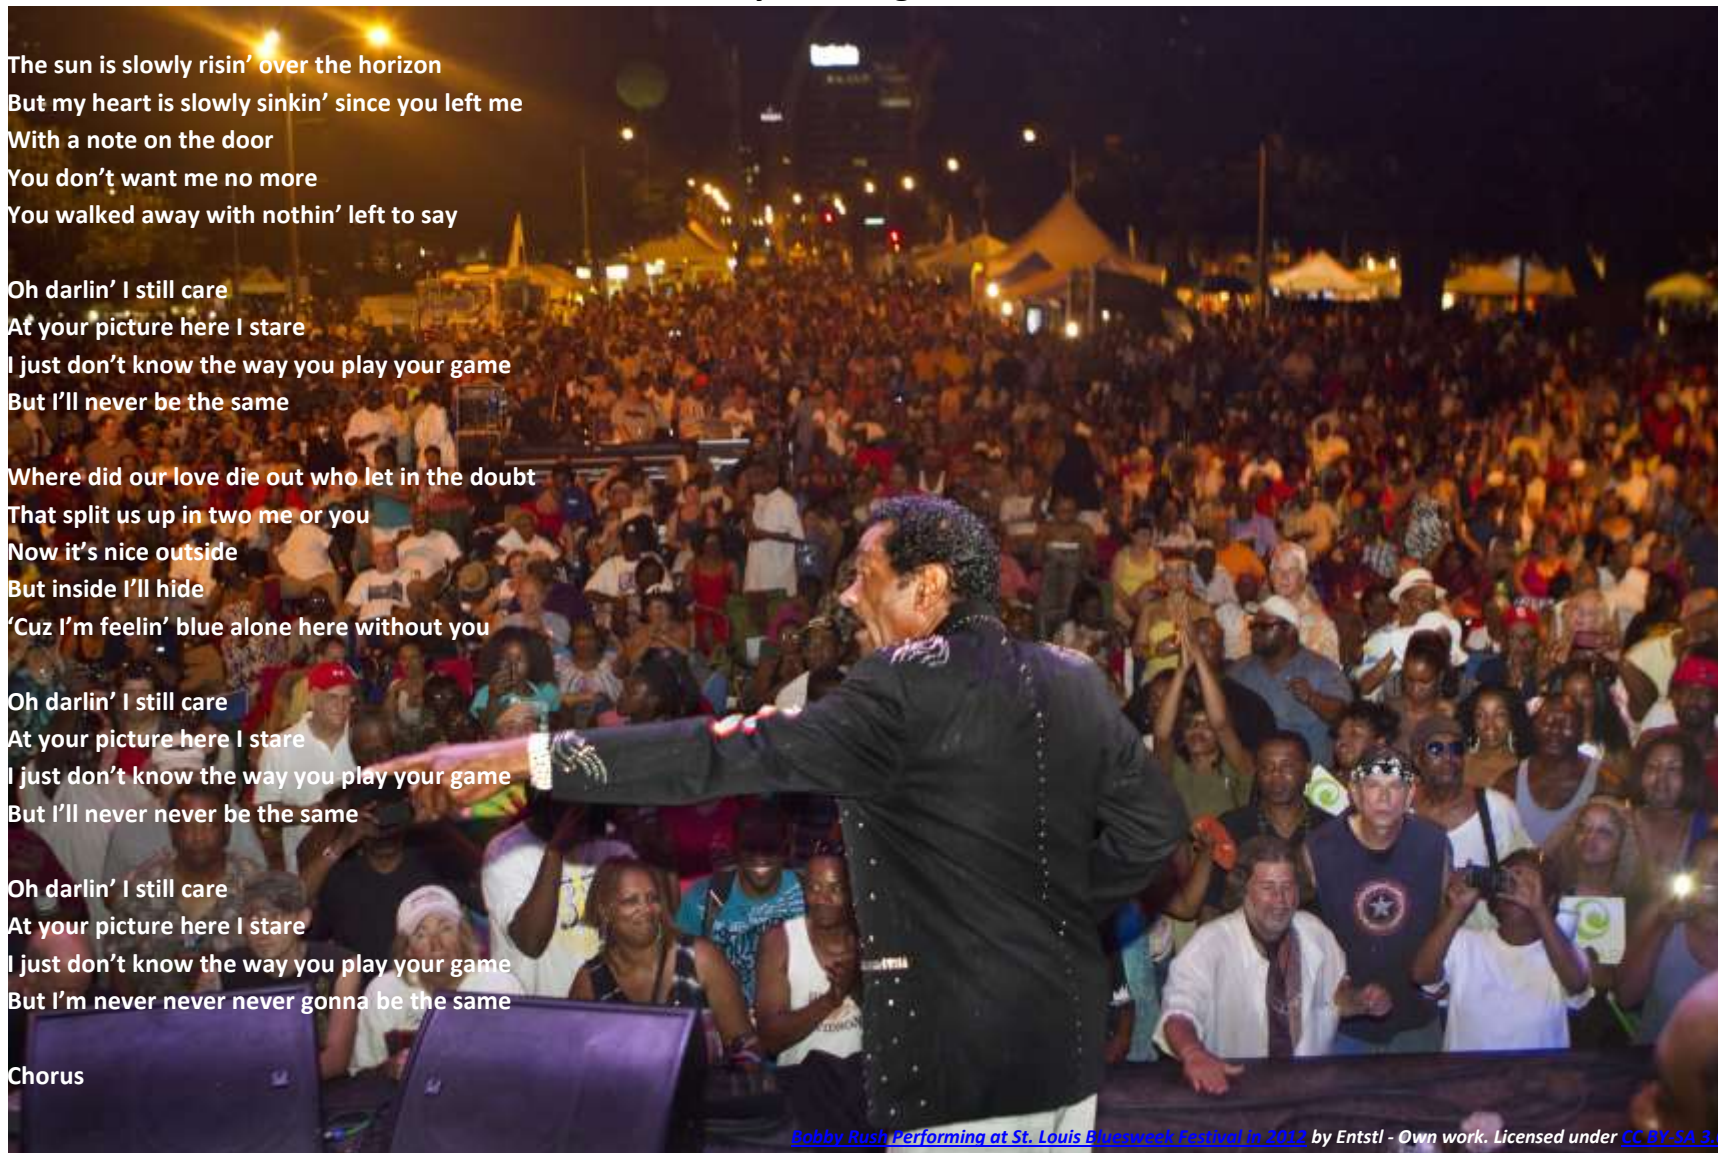

Oh darlin' I still care
At your picture here I stare
I just don't know the way you play your game
But I'll never be the same

Where did our love die out who let in the doubt
That split us up in two me or you
Now it's nice outside
But inside I'll hide
'Cuz I'm feelin' blue alone here without you

Oh darlin' I still care
At your picture here I stare
I just don't know the way you play your game
But I'll never never be the same

Oh darlin' I still care
At your picture here I stare
I just don't know the way you play your game
But I'm never never never gonna be the same

Chorus
